Otis, "Oh, man that fishing derby was the best day of my life!II

Johnny snickers "Is that right, Otis? Maybe you'd like to talk about that." Otis, II

Johnny, "How do you learn about these different projects?"

Gomer, "Well they tell me the best way to investigate a program and learn all about it is to attend one of these conferences and look at all the CPA's turned in. I understand all the clubs submit these books on service projects they have done."

Johnny, "That sounds great! But, what do you do with those accounting books?"

Gomer, "They're not accounting books, they're Community Project Books. You enter them in competition and the book put together best according to the rules wins. They even give your club some kind of A & A Points for them."

MIGHT NEED SOMETHING ELSE HERE

Johnny, "Before we bring out our next guest didn't you have something special you wanted to do today, Otis?"

Otis, "If you don't mind I'd like to present this trophy to the little girl that won the fishin derby. She was the cutest little girl! I didn't know kids were so sweet!"
